4 Persons Die in 2-Car Wreck Near Hope Sat.

Four persons — including a well-known deep sea diver and a Negro rock 'n' roll singer — were killed Saturday in a fiery two-car crash near here. Two others were critically injured.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Max Gene Nohl of Milwaukee; the singer, Jesse Belvin and a companion, Charles Ford, 34 of New York City.

Belvin's wife, Joann, 25, is hospitalized here and Kirk Davis, another entertainer in the Belvin car, was taken to a Texarkana hospital. The injured remain in critical condition.

State Trooper Dwight Pankey said the Cadillac carrying the Negroes was in the wrong lane when it collided with the vehicle carrying the Nohls, six miles west of here about 7 a.m.

The Nohls car burst into flames. A passing motorist pulled Mrs. Nohl from the car but flames prevented him from rescuing Mr. Nohl.

Belvin, who appeared Friday night on a rock 'n' roll show at Little Rock, was enroute to Fort Worth for another show Saturday night. Friends said he was born at Texarkana and had lived at Los Angeles.

Among his best known records were "Earth Angel" and "Guess Who." Both made top ten listings several years ago. Nohl headed a group that tried unsuccessfully in 1958 to salvage the sunken Dutch motorship Prins Willem V in Lake Michigan. He recently had planned a new attempt to raise the vessel which sank in 1954 after a collision.

In 1934 he accompanied the late explorer and radio performer, Phillip Lord, known professionally as Seth Parker on a five month diving expedition in the Caribbean.

Two Minor Auto Accidents Here

Two accidents were investigated by City Police over the weekend. At Hazel and Dixon, two autos driven by Carson Green, a Negro and Mrs. Jack Brown collided with minor damage resulting. Officers Milam and Clark charged Green with hazardous driving. Saturday an auto driven by Mrs. C. V. Nunn Sr. hit a light post and shattered the globe. The incident occurred on South Main.

Disc Jockey Is Questioned in Payola Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional investigators began their hearings on payola today by calling former Boston disc jockey Norman Prescott for questioning behind closed doors.

The session was arranged at Prescott's request, Chairman Orin Harris (D-Ark) of the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee said.

Harris read the House rule permitting witnesses to be heard initially in executive session when testimony might "tend to defame, degrade or incriminate" anyone.

He said the committee felt it must grant Prescott's request, made earlier in a telegram from Palm Beach, Fla.

At a brief open session, Harris said rumors that the subcommittee investigation will center on a few individuals, stations or localities are "wholly unfounded."

"It is not the subcommittee's objective to single out any single area, group or individual," Harris said.

He said hearings this week are only the beginning of a look into "representative situations which will reveal the nature and scope" of the problem of alleged under-the-table payments for plugs on the air and other forms of commercial bribery or improper practice.

The subcommittee later will hear witnesses about cases "in Pennsylvania and many other parts of the country," Harris said.

Grim Picture Over Civil Rights Issue

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A grim picture of the forthcoming Senate battle over civil rights measures, now just a week away, was drawn today by senators on opposing sides.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) said congress must act to prevent "Wholesale exclusion of Negro citizens from the polls." He counselled against passing just a token measure to avoid a bruising contest.

Sens. Richard F. Russell and Herman E. Talmadge of Georgia said meanwhile they and other southerners will wage an all-out fight against bills providing for federal registrars or federal voting referees.

"We will leave no stone unturned—no rule of the senate unused—in this battle to protect states' rights and constitutional government," Russell said in a speech prepared for a joint session of the Georgia Legislature.

Talmadge also said he will fight against these and other civil rights bills "as long as I can stand on my two feet and utter a sound," or until, as he put it, he is gagged by the senate's filibuster rule.

2 Churches Plan Joint Mission Study

Women of the First Methodist and Presbyterian Churches plan a joint mission study, Feb. 15 through Feb. 18. The first meeting will be held at the Methodist Church, the following at the Presbyterian Church and the closing meet at the Methodist Church.

The nursery will open each of the days at the Methodist church for the convenience of women of both churches.

Mrs. James Branch is the Presbyterian Mission Chairman and Mrs. Rufus Sorrells is the Methodist chairman.

Chessman was sentenced to death in 1948 on charges of kidnapping, robbery and perverted sexual assaults against two young women. He has been in death row for nearly 12 years and has escaped seven earlier execution dates through various legal moves.

Business Man May Oppose Rep. Alford

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Franklin E. Loy, a Little Rock insurance executive, today confirmed reports he is considering a race for congressman in Arkansas' Fifth District.

The post now is held by Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark), who unseated former Congressman Brooks Hays in the 1958 election.

Asked about the reports, Loy told a newsmen:

"I am considering the race and under certain circumstances I would be a candidate."

He declined to elaborate. There has been speculation that several others may enter the race.

Among these are State Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Little Rock; Ed Gordon, a Morrilton insurance executive; and Robert Hays Williams of Russellville, an attorney and state senator.

Loy, a former alderman, never has been identified with any faction in the segregation controversy here.

Henry Davis, 67, of Fulton, Dies at Shreveport

Henry Davis, aged 67, a resident of Fulton, died Saturday in a veterans hospital at Shreveport.

He is survived by a brother, Gus Davis of Fulton and a sister, Mrs. Iva Harkness of Kansas City.

Services were to be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Fulton Union Church by Dr. John McClanahan. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Water Creek Cemetery.

Had Corner on the Zip Gun Business

NEW YORK (AP) — Police searched the home of 14-year-old Sanford All and found six zip guns, a sawed-off rifle, several hundred rounds of .22 caliber ammunition, two hatchets, six bowie knives, two blackjacks, a tire chain, a bludgeon, and several lengths of rope.

Officers said All sold ammunition to teen-age gang members. Another youth, William Noya, 15, was accused of making zip guns, which sold for $1.50 each. A zip gun is a homemade pistol usually powered with heavy rubber bands, which give them "zip."

The youths were among 13 boys—all Negroes—gathered outside a building in the Bronx Sunday. Police broke up the gathering and charged several of them—including Noya and All—with juvenile delinquency.

Senators May Try to Cut Probe Costs

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) have launched separate fights to reduce the $3,000,000 that Senate committees want to spend on investigations.

The Senate takes up the money requests today. Chief target of Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, is the $25,000 proposed to finance continued operations of the anti-monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Dirksen contends that subcommittee hearings on pricing practices in the steel, automobile, asphalt roofing and bread industries have served only to harass business men and have produced no legislation.

Kefauver claims the subcommittee has shown that price competition is disappearing under the weight of what he calls monopoly power.

Kefauver said in a report that his group plans future hearings on pricing practices in industries manufacturing building materials such as glass, plumbing fixtures, asbestos and gypsum products.

He said new hearings are in prospect on the expansion of professional football and baseball leagues. He added that the subcommittee staff already has begun a preliminary inquiry into professional boxing.

Kefauver's budget for the year listed 39 employees on a $311,200 annual payroll, with $27,000 requested for travel.

Ellender served notice he will fight to cut down funds for more than a score of other investigation groups.

Governor Shifts Speaking Tour

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus shifts his speaking activity to eastern Arkansas this week, with five talks scheduled.

He is to speak Wednesday noon to a joint meeting of Forrest City Civic clubs, then that night at a dinner at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Thursday night he will address the Brinkley Chamber of Commerce.

Tuesday night he will be a guest at an Arkansas Fair Managers Board meeting and Friday night he will attend a Society of American Forestry dinner. Both will be in Little Rock.

Can Be Applied Illegally, the Court Warns

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld the 1958 teacher affidavit law.

But the court warned the measure could be applied unconstitutionally.

The law — Act 10 of 1958 — requires public school teachers, including instructors in state-supported colleges, to swear to organizations they have belonged or contributed to for five years past.

A teacher who refused can not be hired.

The law previously had been held constitutional by a three-judge federal court — a ruling which the U. S. Supreme Court recently agreed to review.

Today's state court decision was unanimous.

Act 10 was challenged by Max Carr, former associated professor of music at the University of Arkansas, and Ernest Cephardt, a vocational printing instructor at Central High School here.

Carr and Cephardt charged that the law infringed on their rights of free speech and association and other rights guaranteed by both the federal and state constitutions.

In an opinion written by Justice George Iose Smith, the Supreme Court said a school board or other employing agency has the right to inquire into the background of teachers.

"It cannot be doubted that the information would often be of real value," Smith wrote.

"We are not convinced that either the state or the federal constitution compels a school board to engage its teachers without first inquiring about the matters that the act requires to be disclosed."

The court reviewed testimony of Amis Guibridge of Little Rock, attorney for the Capital Citizens Council, that his group intended to use information in Act 10 affidavits to eliminate from schools teachers who belong to or support the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Urban League.

Smith said he didn't think the testimony sufficient to show that the act would be applied unfairly.

"We are not unmindful of the settled principle that a statute, even though fair on its face, may become invalid if it is administered with an evil eye and unequal hand."

"Here, however, the proof does not show any inclination on the part of the school board to use Act 10 in a discriminatory manner."

"The most that can be said is that at least some members of the Citizens Council are so ill advised as to advocate that course."

"It is advised" is the proper term, since such an effort, if successful, would defeat its own purpose by rendering the act invalid."

The Supreme Court decision affirmed Pulaski Chancellor Murray O. Reed.

Edwin E. Dunaway, attorney for Carr and Cephardt, said he would file a petition for rehearing with the Supreme Court.

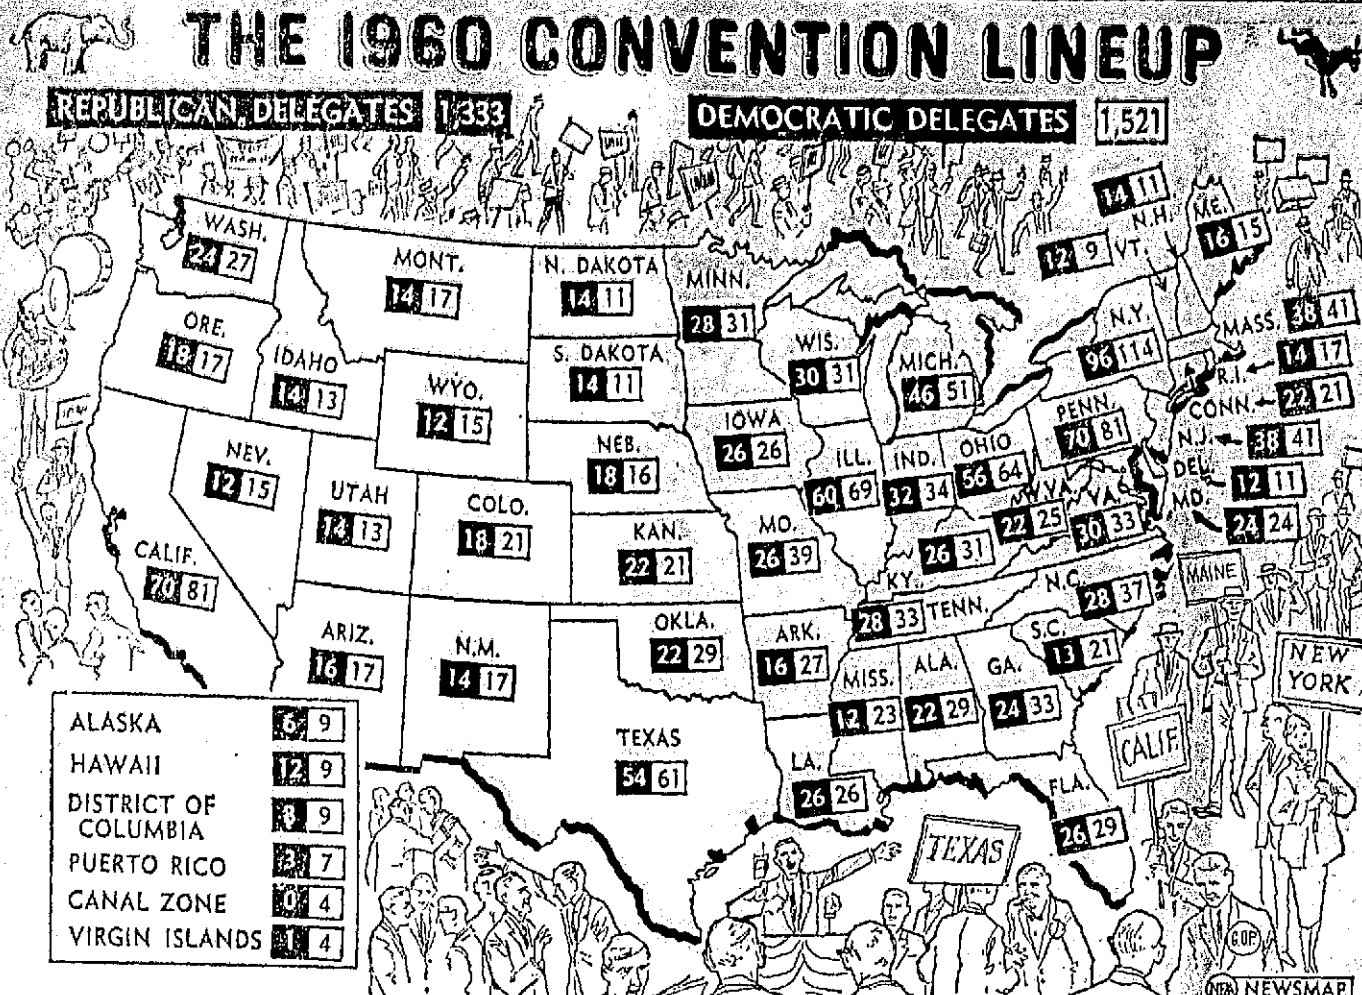

If this is denied — and such petitions seldom are granted — he said he would ask the U. S. Supreme Court to pass on the matter.

The federal case, already before the U. S. Supreme Court, was brought by B. T. Shelton, a Little Rock Negro teacher, who was joined by the Arkansas Teachers Assn., a Negro professional organization, and the group's executive secretary, T. W. Coggs.

Every tax collector knows that even the dullest mind can make some clever deductions —

CONVENTIONS WILL BE BIGGER THAN EVER—Pollsters will poll and orators will orate before more delegates than ever when the Republicans and Democrats hold their 1960 presidential nominating conventions in July. The Democratic reapportionment, designed to reflect population growth and the strength of the party in particular states, shows an increase of 149 over delegate numbers in 1956. When they gather in Los Angeles, each state will have at least one more vote than it had in 1956. The biggest gains are in New York (98 to 114) and California (68 to 81). On the other hand, the Republicans meeting in Chicago, have decided on a modest overall increase of 10. Twenty-two additional votes have been spread among several states, 12 votes taken from others. Each party requires a simple majority of its delegates to nominate a candidate. For the Democrats the magic number is 761; for the Republicans, 687. Chicago will host the GOP for the 14th time, while Los Angeles welcomes its first convention. All eyes will be on the cities as campaign fever hits the U.S.

Extortion Try Charged to Spa Woman

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A former Hot Springs woman was charged today with trying to extort money from resigned Tax Collector Ray Owen by a written threat accusing him of an unspecified crime.

Prosecutor Walter J. Hohert filed the information alleging blackmail against Mrs. George Toulas, or Poulas, a former employee of the tax collector's office.

The charge was filed as the Garland County Grand Jury resumed an investigation into the affairs of the collector's office.

Mrs. Toulas, now living in Tecumseh, Okla., was Mrs. Dorothy Skaggs until a recent remarriage. She is the widow of Joe Skaggs, a deputy in the collector's office, and was herself employed in the office for a time.

She was not employed there when the alleged blackmail took place last November or December.

A warrant for Mrs. Toulas was sent to Shawnee, Okla.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs today told the Grand Jury, which met after a weekend recess, to look into "the alleged shortage existing in the courthouse."

He said there had been "rumors of a big fix" and that he wanted these investigated.

Dobbs specified no office in referring to the "alleged shortage."

The Law Enforcement Commission of the Grand Jury held two sessions last week in which it questioned witnesses about the collector's office.

These included Owen, who resigned Jan. 31 because of ill health.

Later in the week the entire Grand Jury met.

It presumably was continuing the investigation started by the committee.

Owen did not appear before the

Pine Bluff Public Official Succumbs

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Creed Caldwell, 53, city director of public works here for the past 18 years, died at a Little Rock hospital yesterday.

Survivors include his widow and a son, Creed Jr., a student at the University of Arkansas.

Funeral services and burial were set for today.

Democrat or a third party leader, Paulus read two letters urging him to run and said simply: "If any one of you had that kind of faith placed in you, would you do other than your very best?"

Col. Francis J. Wilson of Tulsa, Okla., told the group that development of natural resources is as important as keeping up with Russia in the development of missiles.

The retired engineer and vice president of the Arkansas River Development Assn. said the $1,200,000,000 program for developing the Arkansas "is a sound investment, regardless of those who

Faubus Raps Inequitable Freight Rate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Inequitable freight rates set up by the Republican Party held back economic development of the South, Gov. Orval E. Faubus told a weekend meeting of Young Democrats here.

Faubus, speaking to the 11-state session Saturday night, said the GOP set up rates to favor the North, East and West. He said that only in recent years, after rate reforms, has it been possible for the South to obtain industry to compete with other sections.

On the possibility of his candidacy for president, either as a

Says Russia Cuts Sub Production

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke says the Soviet Union has cut down on submarine production, but the Soviet submarine fleet poses "one of the gravest military threats we face."

It is known that some Soviet submarines can fire missiles, the chief of naval operations told a House Appropriations subcommittee. He did not elaborate in that portion of his testimony made public today, but he said the Soviet threat extends both to sea communications and to U.S. cities.

Burke's testimony also supported current U.S. intelligence estimates based on Soviet intentions as well as Soviet maximum capabilities.

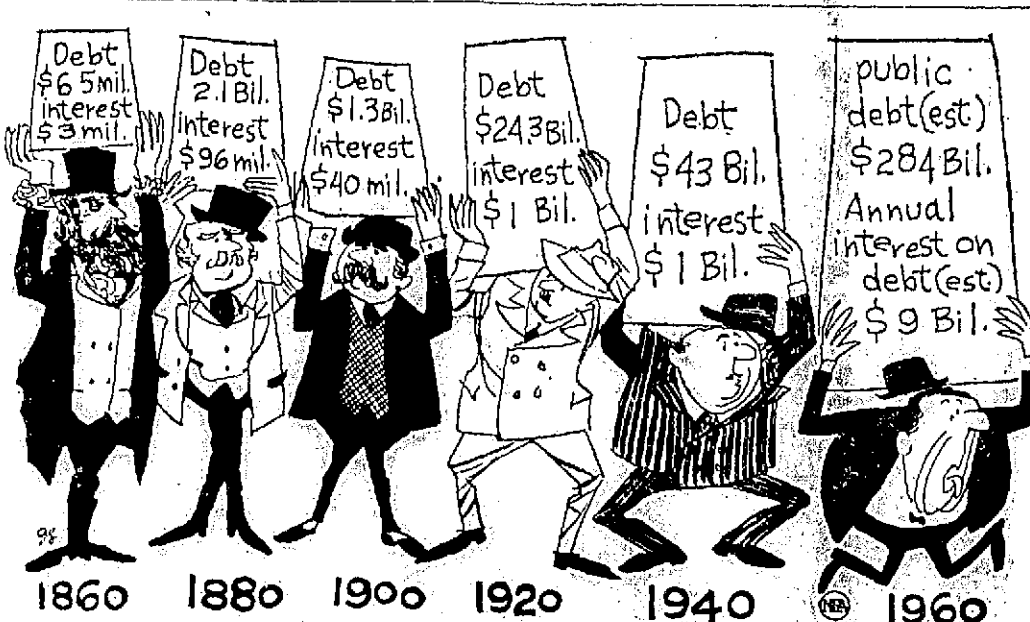

"We have made gross errors in the past by using the old system," he said.

Burke cited what he said were estimates that the Soviets could build hundreds and hundreds of long-range bombers, but said they did not actually do so.

He went on: "They actually built submarines in 1956. They had the capability to continue, but what did they do? They cut a large number of submarines and then they stopped and they went into new production, but their new production is much less."

"They will build submarines at some lesser rate to replace probably the submarines they now have and keep their submarine force about level. You can get a capability on a crash program and be completely misled."

But the published testimony contained no estimate of present Soviet submarine strength. Earlier estimates have ranged around 500 now or recent craft.

A HUNDRED YEARS IN THE HOLE—The nation's public debt of $65 million a century ago seems almost infinitesimal compared with today's. A decade later, as a result of the Civil War, it was over the $2 billion mark. Sketch above shows the debt history in 20-year intervals. After the Civil War high, it declined, on the average, until boosted by World War I. A whittling down of about $8 billion during the '20s was nullified by the depression and the beginning of World War II. Today, the government is spending as much for interest alone as the entire national budget in 1940. The debt is currently running at $281 billion, but hopes are that it will wind up around $284 billion at the end of the fiscal year.

Wet Weather Rule for West, North

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet weather was the rule in far western and northern sections of the country today but it was fairly mild and dry in most other areas.

Rain splattered wide areas from the Pacific Northwest southward into northern and central California and eastward across northern Nevada and southeastern Idaho.

The stormy weather which hit the Northeast Sunday with gusty winds and snow from the Great Lakes region to the Eastern seaboard abated. Snow flurries continued during the night across parts of the Appalachians and the Great Lakes.

Four inches of snow fell in Syracuse, N.Y., and three inches in Bradford, Pa. Wind gusts reached more than 50 m.p.h. in Johnstown and Allentown, Pa.

Skies were clear this morning in most areas from the Ohio Valley eastward into the Atlantic coast and southward through the Gulf Coast region.

Charged on False Pretense Counts

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A Monett, Mo., woman industrialist has been named on a 2nd charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Mrs. Gladys Ellis was charged at Marshall in connection with raising of $31,500 for a garment factory which operated less than a month.

A similar charge was filed here in connection with a $65,000 loan to start a garment factory. The plant still is operating.

Authorities said that equipment mortgaged to secure the $65,000 loan had been mortgaged previously to out-of-state firms.

Mrs. Ellis has filed a bankruptcy petition in U.S. District Court at Joplin, Mo., listing among her assets garment companies at Marshall, Huntsville, Berryville and Calico Rock in Arkansas and others in Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas.

She is free on bond.

Aged Grocer Shot Through Window

WEINER, Ark. (AP)—Police were searching today for a gunman who killed an 84-year-old grocer store proprietor with a shot-gun blast fired through the victim's bedroom window.

The body of Phillip Henry Henson was found by a relative yesterday.

Henson lived in a house about 50 yards behind his store.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Holmes said the motive for the slaying may have been robbery, since Henson's billfold was missing. However, a sack of change was undisturbed in another room of the house.

A .20 gauge shotgun shell was found in the yard.

A widower, Henson lived alone.

Airlift Issue Disagreement Now in Open

Airlift Issue Disagreement Now in Open

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp disagreement between the Army and the Defense Department over the adequacy of emergency airlift facilities was brought into the open today by the House Appropriations committee.

It included:

1. An assertion by Army Chief of Staff Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer that the Defense Department is "woefully and hopelessly unprepared" for the type of emergency airlift it might require.

2. A charge by Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker that Gen. Lemnitzer "is not getting all the cooperation he ought to get" from the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

3. A statement by Rep. George

Composer Abram Khachaturian. Mikoyan's speech to the textile workers included the usual Soviet boast of missile strength coupled with assurance of the Soviet Union's desire for peace.

"Those who talk of war," the Soviet leader said, "know that if we can send a rocket to the moon with such precision, we can send a rocket with the same precision to any point on earth."

But "war is against our wishes," he added. "We want peace, peace forever."

Mikoyan got another big hand as he outlined the rise of the Soviet Union under communism and declared, "The Cuban revolution can accomplish miracles, too."

Mikoyan was followed by Ernesto Guevara, leftist president of the National Bank of Cuba who told the crowd the Cuban revolution will go forward.

"If we can't put Sputniks on the moon, we can plant our revolutionary plants on the moon," Guevara declared.

H. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee, that lack of an adequate airlift "is one of the weakest links in our defense chain."

The airlift controversy was aired by the committee during recent closed-door hearings on the 1961 defense budget. A censored transcript was made public today.

Lemnitzer disagreed with a statement by Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff of the Air Force, that the airlift now available "meets the criteria established by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Bob White and Lemnitzer are members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In 1961, the Arkansas General Assembly incorporated the first cottonseed oil mill in the state.

DOROTHY DIX

14-Year-Old Girl
Wants More Liberty

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I don't go on dates because I am not old enough. But I feel that once a year I should be able to go to a dance with a boy, especially to a respectable dance to which I've been invited. I am 14 and still in public school for I failed last year. Please give me your opinion.—Troubled

Dear Troubled: Your problem is far deeper than mere dating. Neither parents nor children have the courage to discuss the underlying issue: sex!

You are passing through one of the most difficult periods in a girl's life, that which spans childhood and womanhood. Though still in many ways a child, you suddenly find yourself beset by new and disturbing emotions which could be the cause of your low grades. Talk this out with your parents. They, as well as you, must learn frankness.

You are too young to go to unsupervised dances. Why not invite some friends to your home for dancing? Meanwhile, work for higher grades. Ask your parents to give you a party when you succeed. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on The Teen-Age Code.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

About three weeks ago I met a man my age. The way we met there was a feeling for both of us. I said, "You are very nice." He said, "I feel the same as you do." His birthday is next June 30 and mine June 22. He said we are both in common. I told him that was all right.

He said I have a friendly home. I told him he was welcome there any time if he wants. I have three children. He said I don't think your children like me. I ask them and the boy likes him and my 14-year-old daughter said, "I like him."

But it takes time. I never had any man around in the home where the children could see just him. I told this man I like to get better acquaintance. I never met any man so sweet and feel like

You would do anything for him. He don't talk much. What you think of him? He said, "I don't want to come too much because I don't want to lose such nice friendship."—Rose

Dear Rose: He's got shy. Give him time and study my leaflet on The Sly Bean. A stamped self-addressed envelope will bring it winging to you. Also, take a course in English at the nearest Adult Education Center.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

If you were on your way to church and friends picked you up, would it be polite to sit with them or sit where you usually sit? Also should you go in their car for a ride after service?—Troubled

Dear Troubled: A lift to church does not include a seat in the family pew or a return ride. Wait for a separate invitation.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Bobcats Lick Camden But Lose to Cardinals

By TEDDY JONES JR.

Hope's Senior Bobcats dropped a hard fought battle 45 to 39 to the Fairview Cardinals while the Junior boys won a very close one of 29 to 27 over the Fairview Juniors in a pair of District 4 AA Conference tilts played at Camden Saturday night.

On Friday night the Hope Seniors licked Camden 46 to 34 and Billy Mitchell's Juniors racked Camden 40 to 20.

The Bobcats found themselves at a great disadvantage because of the superior height of the Cardinals, which controlled the backboard most of the evening.

Hope racked up 21 points out of 23 tries from the free throw line, while Fairview made only 9 points from the free throws. Fairview led in field goals 18 to the Bobcats' 9.

Vaught and Smiley led the Hope scorers with 9 points each. Glen Calhoun was next with 8. Terry Don Thurman had 7. Bobby Erwin and Gene Robinson rounded it out with 3 each.

Hope led at the end of the first quarter 17 to 13. Fairview moved out front by halftime, putting in 17 points to Hope's 6 in the second quarter to lead 30 to 23. The Cats scored 16 points in the last half as compared to 15 for the Cardinals, but the Bobcats could not overcome the big lead gained in the second quarter.

The defeat left the Bobcats with a 5-3 conference record.

The Hope Junior Cats racked up their eleventh consecutive win in downing the Junior Cardinals. To leave the Hope Juniors with an undefeated conference record of 8-0. They are now assured of at least a tie for first place in the Junior Division of 4 AA play.

Hope led at the end of the first quarter, 8 to 7. It was tied up 16 all at the half. The Kittens were back out in front at the end of the third, 22 to 21. In the fourth quarter each team made 7 points, but the one point lead from the third quarter held over the hard fighting Fairview Juniors for a 29 to 26 win.

Fairview made 11 field goals and 6 free throws as compared to 10 field goals and 9 free tosses for the Hope Juniors.

High man of the game was Dunlap of Fairview, with 17. David Porterfield led Hope with 10. Earl Ray Murphy followed with 9. Parille had 6, Jones and McLarty 2 each.

Tuesday night, Feb. 9, the local Juniors and Seniors travel to Ashdown for a non conference tilt.

Coleman Ties Boston Mile Record

By BOB HOOBING

Associated Press Sports Writer BOSTON (AP) — Phil Coleman won't stray from his Olympic steeplechase ambition no matter how fast he runs a mile.

The personable 28-year old English instructor wowed a Boston Saturday night with a Boston AA games and Boston Garden record-tying 4:03. mile.

Coleman's own fastest mile was the more remarkable because the previous night at the University of Michigan in a dual meet he ran the mile in 4:18 and the half mile in 1:54.2.

"I said I was too slow for the mile when I did 4:07.0 here three weeks ago and I'll say it again," Coleman explained. "On any given day there are three milers in this country who sprint so well they'd leave me far behind. I don't mean a specific three. There are 10 around who can leave me in the dust."

"I am working for the Olympic steeplechase and will continue to run the mile until I feel it will harm my program," continued Coleman. The father of two is

Porkers Have Bad Week in SW Cage Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference basketball race rolls past the halfway point this week with Texas A&M and Southern Methodist tied for the lead and likely to stay that way until they meet each other.

Texas is still a strong threat and some of the second division teams are capable of knocking off the front runners any time. But if form is followed the title should be between the Aggies and Methodists.

Texas A&M doesn't relish having to beat Arkansas on its home court Tuesday night. The fact that Southern Methodist, the team that beat A&M at home, had to go into overtime to whip the Razorbacks 72-70 indicates the task ahead for the Aggies.

Southern Methodist meets the Texas menace Saturday at Dallas. Texas won at Austin early in the campaign—the only conference defeat the Methodists have absorbed.

Texas, which is only one game back from Texas A&M and SMU, will have a lot to gain provided it gets by Texas Tech at Austin Monday night. A defeat by Tech would virtually ruin Texas chance at the title.

Tech is a hot-and-cold outfit. The Red Raiders first tumbled well rated Arkansas 82-79 last week but took a terrific 89-59 licking from Texas A&M.

The Aggies split even on a western tour before getting back to the job of trying to win the conference championship. They beat San Francisco 69-65 but lost to Santa Clara 66-55.

Southern Methodist played two conference games, first trimming Texas Christian 79-73 before journeying into the Ozarks for the crack at Arkansas.

Three games are scheduled Tuesday night. In addition to A&M-Arkansas, Baylor and Texas Christian clash at Waco and Southern Methodist hosts Rice. The latter finally won a conference game last week, nosing Baylor 251. That victory just about put the fix on Baylor's hopes.

There's a full schedule Saturday with the Aggies playing Rice at College Station, Arkansas jousting with Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Baylor tangling with Texas Tech at Lubbock. But the big game will be Southern Methodist and Texas in SMU's big coliseum. Southern Methodist not only wants to stay on top but would like to gain revenge for that upset at Austin.

Wilt Needs 13 Points for Record

By MIE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

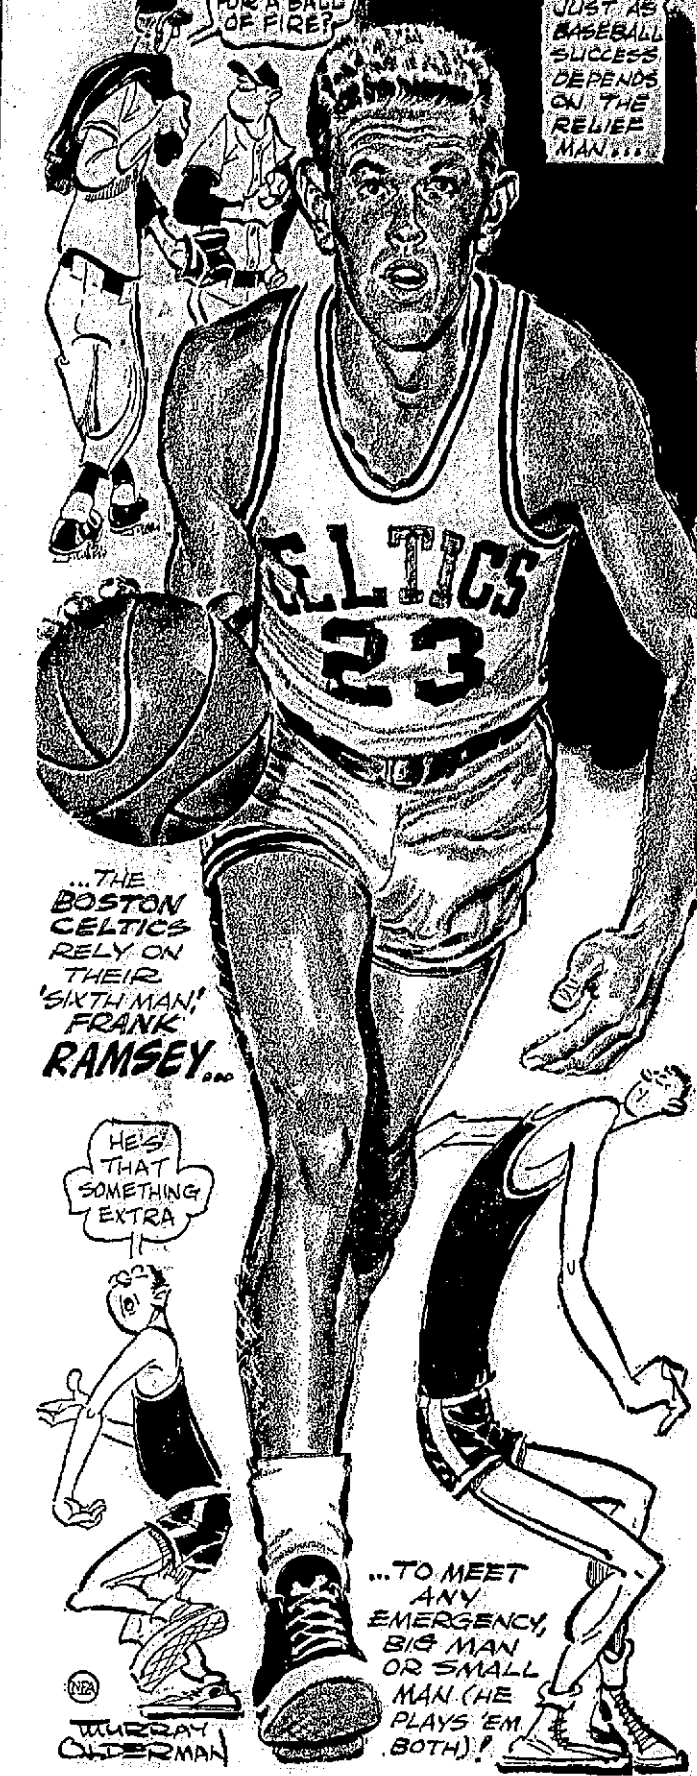

Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, the gaugling freshman producing points at a record clip for the Philadelphia Warriors, can eclipse the National Basketball Assn. single-season scoring record Tuesday night.

The fabulous 7-foot-1 Stilt, who graduated to the pro ranks after earning All-America honors at Kansas University and then toured with the Harlem Globetrotters, needs only 13 points—25 under his average—to surpass Bob Pettit's record of 2,105.

Chamberlain has 2,083 points in 55 games going into Tuesday's encounter with the Detroit Pistons. Pettit, the frontline ace of the Western Division's leading St. Louis Hawks, established the standard last season over the full 72-game schedule while averaging a record 2.2 points a game.

The Stilt, who will finish the season with about 2,700 points if he continues at his record pace, was unable to lead the Warriors to a victory Sunday despite scoring 38 points.

VITAL AIDE

Unbeaten Welters Fight Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two unbeaten young welterweights meet Wednesday at Miami Beach, Fla. when Luis Rodriguez, the No. 1 contender from Cuba, takes on Carl Hubbard of Philadelphia.

Rodriguez, 22, has been moving steadily toward a championship match with Don Jordan, passing every test. Before he came to this country he beat Benny (Kid) Paret twice. On the TV circuit he has whipped Virgil Atkins, Rudolph Stutch, Isaac Logan and Sugar Hart.

The match with the red hot Cuban figures to be a high hurdle for Hubbard, 23, who just moved up to the TV league in January when he stopped Stefan Redl. However Hubbard has a 19-0 record for 21 scraps and is supposed to have a big bang in his left hand.

The fight will be carried on ABC television.

Off the TV beam at the Boston Garden, Ton DeMarco will be making a comeback against Danny Moyer of Portland, Ore. DeMarco, former world welter champion, has been out of action since last April. Before that he took two brutal beatings from Virgil Atkins. DeMarco is supposed to be getting a $10,000 guarantee.

Moyer is a promising youngster who had a shot at Jordan's title last year but lost. In his last two bouts he outpointed Virgil Atkins and stopped Pat Lowry.

Gaspar Ortega makes the TV league again on Friday at Madison Square Garden as an opponent for Emile Griffith, a 22-year-old New Yorker.

If Ortega fights true to form there will be a disputed, split decision after it is all over. When he lost to Florentino Fernandez, the critics thought he really won. When he got the decision over Honolulu's Stan Harrington Jan. 8, they thought he lost. In the meantime the sad Indian keeps banking the TV dollars.

California rings will see two ranking boxers in action this week. Paolo Rossi, No. 1 lightweight challenger in Ring (No. 2, NBA) meets Art Ramponi of Cincinnati by defeating the Royal's 135-122 and Minneapolis snapped a six-game losing streak by nipping Detroit 104-101.

Saturday, Chamberlain scored 44 as the Warriors edged Syracuse 129-126. Boston overwhelmed New York 143-111, and Detroit routed Minneapolis 116-101.

Votes Lure Democratic Hopefuls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The prize of 271 Democratic nominating votes lured presidential hopefuls into a weekend of Western politicking. Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) seemed most active in trying to fasso the votes.

Kennedy supporters reportedly approached California party officials Sunday and proposed terms under which he would stay out of the state primary. The terms were calculated to help Kennedy pick up convention votes.

Meanwhile, Johnson supporters, milling about the Western Democratic Conference in Albuquerque, N.M., claimed Johnson already had more than 200 of the West's 271 convention votes. Kennedy forces looked on the claim as "Texas boasting."

Besides Kennedy and Johnson, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) showed up at the Albuquerque conference. In a speech, Humphrey lashed out at the Republicans, calling them great wasters of resources, including human resources.

The Republicans were not absent from the West. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has a clear field to the GOP presidential nomination, spoke in Los Angeles Saturday and backed up the administration's defense policy.

"At the present time," Nixon told the California Newspaper Publishers Assn., "our present course seems adequate."

"The complex of strength—considering missiles, bombers with their Hound Dog missiles, Polaris submarines that will be coming along and all the other forces—is what counts," he said.

The Kennedy terms were given to Edgar Kent, California Democratic state vice chairman, and Elizabeth Smith, national committeewoman.

The senator's supporters told them Kennedy would stay out of the June 7 primary if Gov. Edmund G. Brown, the state's favorite-son candidate, would promise to release his delegates after the convention's first ballot.

One of the senator's staff explained there was concern that Brown might hold his state's 61 votes until it was too late to help Kennedy's chances for nomination.

So far only Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates for the Democratic nomination. But Johnson, in Indianapolis Saturday, seemed to leave the ranks of those candidates who won't admit it.

For the first time, he talked about his "readiness." He told newsmen he expects to be chairman of the Texas delegation at the July convention "and I hope it will be committed to the support of my candidacy."

In Baker, Ore., Humphrey attempted to use the identical forum as President Eisenhower and outline what the Democratic party stands for.

Plane Crashes on Mountain, Pilot Killed

MAGAZINE, Ark. (AP)—A newly purchased private plane crashed yesterday on Mt. Magazine, Arkansas' highest peak, killing the pilot.

Robert Keyes, 21, of Atlanta, Ga., was flying the twin-engine Cessna 310-C from a factory in Wichita, Kan., to his home town. He was alone.

The new plane, valued at more than $75,000, smashed into the northwest Arkansas mountain about mid-afternoon. Apparently there were no witnesses.

Keyes was an employee of Executive Aviation, Inc., of Atlanta. Cause of the crash was not known.

The wreckage was sighted about 5:15 p.m. by forest rangers in an observation tower at Mt. Magazine, a 2,883-foot peak in the Ozark National Forest.

It was thought for several hours that the wreckage might be that of a Piper Cub belonging to Rufus Galloway of Texarkana, an insurance investigator who took off Jan. 26 from Memphis and has not been seen since.

The Civil Air Patrol yesterday called off an extensive search of the east Arkansas-West Tennessee area for Galloway's plane.

CAP officials said no flight plan for Keyes could be ascertained. When searchers found the wreckage at 9:30 p.m., they estimated eyes had been dead about five or six hours.

An Army search plane from Ft. Chaffee at Fort Smith located the wreckage on Mt. Magazine after dark on directions from forest rangers.

The plane made low passes over the site to lead ground search parties to it.

The body was taken to a Paris, funeral home.

A coroner's investigation was pending.

The first State Fair was held in Little Rock in 1860.

CHAPTER XXV
Consequently, all who had been bitten and were not confined to bed by illness crowded into Madam Janeway's house on Christmas Eve of the year 1869.

The house had been rearranged for the party, with tables set to accommodate all the guests. It was whispered about that Madam had imported the cook, or chef, from a famous restaurant in New York, with his helpers. And he had been making a dramatic entrance glittering with jewels, appeared the majestic figure of Lucilla Bardon, an opera star newly imported from Italy, who was to sing for us after dinner.

But the lavish thing about the dinner was the favor at each plate — to each guest a Christmas gift, rare and costly. This largess alone must have cost Madam Janeway thousands of dollars. And when you added to that the expense of the exotic food, of the imported chef and the crew and the fee for the Italian opera singer, then the total cost of this entertainment was such as could be afforded only by some Indian nabob or or a Dan'l Drew.

Louise gave me her shoulder for the most part and bestowed her charms upon an elderly gentleman who sat on her right. He, I learned upon making inquiry, was the officer of some bank down the Hudson River at Kingston. Her talk — such sentences as I could catch — was witty and sophisticated and and, to me, most displeasing.

The Italian woman sang songs which doubtless were wonderful and very high class, but which I did not enjoy. This was after we had left the table. I was not enjoying myself, and made my way out of the crowded rooms, intending to be very adult myself and smoke a cigar in Madam's office. But the office was occupied by Madam Janeway. I recognized the gleaming voice of Banker Jethro Willis from Birmingham. I paused before intruding.

Willis was speaking. "I brought it myself, Madam Janeway," he said. "I would not trust it to the mails or to other hands. I — er — preferred to have it appear to you as a personal favor from me."

"How charming, Mr. Willis," said Madam sweetly.

"It's here I've sealed it in this envelope. If you would care to count it."

"Indeed not!" Madam exclaimed. "That would imply a doubt of your integrity — which is unthinkable."

Willis purred like a great alley cat. "You will find it correct A considerable sum." He cleared his throat. "One hundred thousand dollars in lawful currency of the United States."

I did not remain to listen further, but walked quietly away and rejoined the guests in the parlor.

When I opened my office door on the Monday morning after Christmas Day I experienced an odd feeling of discomfort, as if something were not right with the room.

It was not until I cast my eyes upon the floor that there was some confirmation that an intruder had been there.

Loading from the door to Madam Janeway's safe was a line of all but invisible spots of dampness, as if someone with wet shoes had walked there. I bent over the tracks, if tracks they were, and satisfied myself that someone to whose soles clung freshly fallen snow had walked from door to door, had paused before the safe, and then had returned to the door and gone away.

I tried the safe's door and it was firmly locked. If it had been opened, it must have been by someone who possessed the combination. It was puzzling and disturbing.

I withdrew my eyes from the safe when there came a peremptory rapping on my door. I called permission to come in and Madam Janeway's butler, Oscar, clomped into my office, slapping snow from his hat and coat and kicking it with his enormous feet.

"Well!" I asked curtly.

"Get to Madam's house as fast as your legs will carry you," he said in his harsh, grating voice.

I stared at him, but his eyes did not waver.

"Is that," I asked, "the message Madam bade you deliver to me?"

"It's the gist of it," he said. "Suppose, then," I said, "you start again and deliver the message in Madam's words, not in your impudent version of them."

I stood up and pushed my chair backward. Even though he came from Madam Janeway, I did not propose to tolerate discourtesy from him.

He hesitated, and then bowed mockingly from the waist. "Madam Janeway," he said mincingly, "bids me request that you call upon her at your earliest convenience about a matter of considerable importance."

I have seldom been more angry, for this creature was plainly bent upon belittling me.

"You will inform Madam," I said, "that I will be with her before noon. You might add that when next she sends a messenger to select one with more good manners than skill in throwing knives."

The instant I spoke I knew I had let my anger betray me into making a fool of myself.

"I will repeat your answer to Madam, exactly," he said with a politeness of which I did not think him capable. He bowed with some dignity, turned on his heels and strode out of my office.

Finch to Tell That He Fled in Panic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch was expected to testify today that he fled in panic from the spot where his estranged wife lay dead—shot, he says, by accident.

The rich surgeon testifies for the fourth day in his fight against the gas chamber.

He and his mistress, pretty Carole Tregoff, 23, are accused of murdering socially prominent Barbara Jean Finch, 35, outside the fashionable Finch home in West Covina last July 18.

Dr. Finch's account left off Friday at the long trial's most dramatic moment so far—the moment his wife died.

As he knelt holding her hand and sobbing, he said, his wife murmured: "Take care of the kids."

Tears streamed from several jurors' eyes. The jammed courtroom held its breath, straining for every word.

Dr. Finch, 42, re-living those last minutes in his second wife's life, lost the pose which has marked his manner since the trial began in December.

He spoke haltingly, appearing to force his words through lips stiff with emotion. He trembled and fought for composure.

Dr. Finch denied the prosecution's charge he and Miss Tregoff waylaid Mrs. Finch to murder her. They merely wanted to ask if she wanted a Nevada divorce, he said, so he and Carole could get married sooner.

He said a terrific fight broke out between him and his wife the night of her death solely because Mrs. Finch produced a pistol and he feared she would shoot.

He said the pistol went off, fatally wounding Mrs. Finch, as he drew his arm back to throw it away.

John Lookadoo, of Arkadelphia, Dies

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—John H. Lookadoo, 66, an attorney and civic leader, died suddenly at his home today.

Lookadoo underwent surgery for a heart condition some years ago but had been in excellent health recently.

At the time of his death, Lookadoo was president of the Elk Horn Bank & Trust Co., and was chairman of the board of Henderson State Teachers College.

He also was chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education, chairman of the Committee on State Supported Colleges and headed the Clark County Democratic Central Committee.

A former Clark County sheriff and clerk of the Clark Circuit Court, Lookadoo had practiced law here for many years. He was a past president of the Arkansas Bar Assn.

Lookadoo was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include the widow; one son, J. H. Lookadoo Jr., an attorney, and member of his father's law firm; two daughters, Mrs. James P. Gooch and Mrs. Duncan Flanagan, all of Arkadelphia; three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held at Murray's Funeral Chapel here at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Burial will be at Arkadelphia.
